

Our eConsignment module helps increase your group sales and lower internal costs.

eConsignment

Convergence.net is a premium provider and technology leader in the rapidly expanding market of online ticketing and group sales tools. Our eConsignment hosted service is perfect for group sales departments of attractions or events who are looking for the convenience of eTicketing and the power of selling all ticket types to help increase sales and member enrollments in their ticket consignment program.

Our eConsignment module can enroll and administer potentially hundreds of participating organizations. A private online ticket store with unique ticket selection, pricing, access, messaging, and co-branding is quickly generated for each member organization. Our system supports discount buy-downs or commissions, allowing your group sales to attract a variety of non-profits, schools, travel clubs, hotels, corporations, and civic organizations. With our built-in email communications and our marketing flyer upload / download capabilities, your staff can efficiently market to administrators of each participating organization to stimulate sales and promote special events.

Your participating organizations will appreciate not having to handle paper tickets or money or end-of-season reconciliations. And with new sales rep manager, you may track sales and responsiveness by salesperson. All in one integrated platform!
