

eConsignment Solutions

Convergence.net is a premium provider and technology leader in the rapidly expanding market of online ticketing and group sales tools. Our eConsignment capability is integrated in our eTicketing Platform and perfect for group sales departments who are looking for the convenience of eTicketing and the power of selling all ticket types to help increase sales in their ticket consignment program.

Your participating organization will appreciate not having to handle tickets or cash. Your staff avoids time consuming end-of-season reconciliation. And unlike traditional consignment, each online sale grows your customer list.

Our eConsignment module can enroll and administer thousands of participating organizations. A private online ticket store with unique ticket selection, pricing, access, messaging, and co-branding is quickly generated for each member organization. Our system supports discount buy-downs or commissions, allowing your group sales to attract a variety of organizations. With our built-in email communications and our marketing flyer upload / download capabilities, your staff can efficiently market to administrators of each participating organization to stimulate sales and promote special events.
